

POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

From the press box, it looks like a photo-finish in labor's race to qualify referendum petitions against the anti-"hot cargo" bill, with a good possibility that the result will remain in doubt right up until the time when Secretary of State Paul Peek announces his official tally on Sept. 13.

The dead-line for solicitation of signatures in the referendum sweepstakes is Saturday (Aug. 23) when the final petitions must be submitted to county clerks for checking and verification. Any names submitted after that date, even though obtained earlier, will be scratched.

A total of 132,573 valid voter-signatures will be required to force the bill to a referendum vote of the people. Fully half of the signatures filed are often tossed into the discard, due to various disqualifying factors, such as improper precincting, lack of registration, illegal practices in solicitation, etc., and it is expected that labor will attempt to get a quarter of a million names gross on its petitions in an effort to insure success of the referendum drive.

Both sides already are claiming victory, but seasoned political observers declare it will be utterly impossible to determine whether the referendum has qualified until county clerks have spent some 20 days in checking the names. Ed. Vandeleur, secretary of the State Federation of Labor, has predicted that labor will file petitions carrying 200,000 valid signatures against the bill. Farm leaders, who have vigorously opposed the referendum, predict, however, that it will fall 50,000 signatures short of the required number.

The best impartial analysis indicates that a few thousand names, one way or the other — probably not more than 15,000 — will determine the outcome. If the race is as close as expected, it is quite possible the issue will be carried into the courts in an effort by one side to force the acceptance of names which may have been discarded, or by the other side to disqualify signatures that may be questionable.

Los Angeles county is expected to furnish about 50 per cent of all the signatures filed, with San Francisco supplying approximately 30 per cent and the balance scattered.

Hottest issue of the 1941 session of the Legislature, the anti-"hot cargo" bill prohibits labor from employing the secondary boycott. The bill was passed over Governor Olson's veto by a two-thirds vote of both houses after members from rural counties had charged that the "hot cargo" practice had resulted in widespread labor racketeering and had cost the farming industry disastrous losses.

Sigma Sigma Club Will Sponsor USO Fashion Show

A special treat is in store for this community when the opportunity is presented to view the latest in fall creations at a Fashion Show on Friday evening, Sept. 12.

Sponsored by the Sigma Sigma club, the program will be held in the grammar school auditorium at 8 o'clock and all proceeds will be donated to the U. S. O.

Dresses shown from teen age up, will be from the Cam and Dot Shopp with accessories from Carol Evans' department. Shoes worn by the models will be from the Fashion Bootery in San Jose.

Miss Rachel Spradling who has opened a millinery department in the Shopp will have modelled the newest in fall hats. She is holding open house tomorrow (Friday) at The Bandbox in the afternoon from 2 to 6 and in the evening from 7 to 9. The public is cordially invited to inspect her attractive line of hats and accessories.

On the same program will be ballet numbers by Miss Marion Jacobson, a military tap dance by little Marilyn De Vita and solos by Ruby Anderson.

Tickets may be purchased from members of the Sigma Sigma club.

P. O. Department Seeks Location For New Quarters

The post office department is calling for bids for quarters for the Campbell post office, the lease on the present building expiring on February 28, 1942.

Postmaster Ira Grim stated the present quarters are too small and asked that property owners having buildings for rent or who might be interested in constructing a new building for use as a post office, call for forms and information. The forms must be filed by August 30.

Growth of business and volume of mail handled through the office due to the rapid increase in population both town and particularly on the rural route is partially responsible for the expansion.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Hyde left Tuesday morning for a business and pleasure trip north. They will visit relatives in Portland and Mr. Hyde will also contact distributors of his Hyde-Ro Ring in that city and Seattle. They also contemplate a crossing into British Columbia at Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Jensen who resided on North First street, but went south a few weeks ago are now established in San Diego where Jensen is engaged on government construction. Mrs. Klauke Block plans to visit her sister soon.

OUT OF HARM'S WAY!

Mrs. W. R. Morgan Named on County Fair Committee

A meeting of women representing their communities on a fair committee to plan and promote women's participation in the Santa Clara County Fair was held last week in San Jose, with Mrs. Benjamin H. Campbell, chairman presiding.

Mrs. Wyland R. Morgan had been asked to take over the organization for this community and she has contacted several women who are particularly interested in some phase of women's work that can be placed on exhibit. These subcommittee heads will be announced when all are arranged.

Dates for the fair have been set for October 7-12 and while there will be exhibits of women's handiwork every day of the fair, Mrs. Campbell said "we want to make Women's day, tentatively set for Thursday, Oct. 9, one of the outstanding days. We hope to have many women in action, at their looms, fashioning pottery, or other handicrafts."

An eight pound son, Robert Edward, was born Thursday, Aug. 14, to Mr. and Mrs. Gus L. Standish of San Jose. Standish is a member of the Campbell Union Grammar school faculty, teaching physical education, shop and arithmetic.

Walter Smiley returned to his radio shop Friday after an absence of two weeks while enjoying a camping and fishing trip. Other members of the party were Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Anninger of San Jose and Mrs. Thelma Williamson of Mariposa. Camps were made at Florence Lake, Lake Tenaya and Tuolumne Meadows.

A son who has been named, Roland James, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kirk of Dry Creek road, Thursday, August 14, at O'Connor sanitarium.

Rev., Mrs. Baldwin Hold Open House At Parsonage

Rev. and Mrs. Donald H. Baldwin held open house at the parsonage yesterday afternoon from 4 to 5 and in the evening, to the members of their congregation and friends.

This was an opportunity for people to meet the members of Mrs. Baldwin's family who have been here visiting, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Ryder and sister, Mrs. Helen Cooley, who left today for their homes in New York, and also to see the many changes and improvements which were made to the house before the Baldwins moved here from Palo Alto.

Seasonal flowers were attractively placed in the several rooms, and punch and wafers were served the callers after they had looked over the many things that had been done.

Heads of P.-T. A. Committees Meet

In order to discuss plans for the coming school year, Mrs. Anthony Jurras, president of Campbell Union High School P.-T. A. met with Mrs. Henry Jensen, membership chairman, at the latter's home. Also present at the meeting was Mrs. Clarence Fagalde, chairman of finance and budget.

Mrs. Jensen announces that the membership campaign will start beginning the first of school and continue for six weeks.

All mothers having children entering school are urgently invited to become members. A program of special interest is being planned for the first meeting of the school year and a large attendance is desired.

As the first event toward raising the budget a garden party will be held in September at the home of Mrs. F. R. Rambo on Stevens Creek road.

George W. Page Improving From Serious Accident

The many friends of George W. Page will be pleased to learn that he seems to be holding his own, with some indications of improvement since the very serious accident which he suffered last Saturday, although his physicians are not too hopeful.

Reported at first to have sustained a broken back, he was rushed to the hospital, where x-rays since showed a cracked vertebra in the neck.

Mr. Page bought the old trestle over the Los Gatos creek which was part of the Southern Pacific - Almaden railroad, from which he has been selling some of the large timbers. At the time of the accident he was superintending the loading of some of them when he slipped and fell, striking in such a way as to receive this serious injury.

Mrs. Edwina Page Enzinger came down from San Francisco immediately to be with her mother, as did her granddaughter Miss Jean Kerwin, and her older daughter, Mrs. Marie Page Cleaves flew out from New York.

N. Y. A. Opens Defense Projects In County

With the opening of two defense projects, the National Youth Administration's quota restrictions have been lifted from Santa Clara county providing for a considerably greater number of work experience opportunities. The county's quota is now 200.

The expanded defense projects provide openings in sheet-metal, welding, joinery and millwork. In cooperation with San Jose Technical High school, youth employed in defense projects are scheduled for defense training classes in addition to their work in the shops. The regular N. Y. A. program offers work experience in a number of other projects throughout the county — ranging from construction projects, army service projects, to clerical projects. All youth are scheduled to work eighty hours a month on a twenty day basis. Youth in defense projects are paid $25.00 a month and youth on the regular program $21.00 per month.

Applications will be received at 350 West Santa Clara street, San Jose, Calif.

Undersecretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal has informed the House Appropriations committee that the Navy department plans to increase the United States Marine Corps enlisted strength from 46,000 men to 60,000 regulars and 15,000 reserves. He said the Marine Corps at the present time has clothing and equipment for 63,000 Marines and wants to lay in reserve supplies sufficient for a force of 96,000.

Kiwanians Hear Edward J. Demson On "Newspapers"

Campbell Kiwanians met Tuesday evening with their wives as guests. The tables were attractively decorated with low arrangements of pink amaryllis, and a large bowl of the lilies, combined with asters and petunias in shades of pink, and another of mammoth pink hydrangias adorned the room.

President Joe Gomes presided at the opening of the meeting but soon turned the gavel over to Guy E. Farley, as master of ceremonies.

Lieutenant-governor of Division 12, Raymond Fisher of Los Gatos, who with Mrs. Fisher, were visiting guests, presented Farley with an attendance pin for 15 consecutive years of perfect attendance.

A musical program was presented by two Los Gatos young people, Warren Heid, who played the violin selections, "Adoration" by Borowski, "Hejre Kati" by Huway, and as an encore "Oriental" by Cui.

Miss Betty Verini who was Heid's accompanist, gave two piano solos, "Valse in E Minor," Chopin, and "Warum" by Schumann.

Edward J. Demson, assistant to the manager of the San Jose Mercury Herald, who came to San Jose last November and assumed his present position with the paper in February, discussed "The Newspaper in the Community."

He very lucidly and definitely explained his views of a newspaper, namely "The fundamental principle of a newspaper is to publish the news as it is without fear or favor, let the chips fall where they may."

He also stated, "The newspaper as I see it is the front line trench of democracy."

He explained the new set-up of the paper and its policy regarding news and publicity.

Mr. Demson speaking for both himself and Mrs. Demson was most enthusiastic in his praise of the "Valley of Heart's Delight" as a place in which to live. He said that natives of the state take it for granted, and those who have been here for many years almost do, but newcomers like themselves can't say enough in its praise.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton D. Rees of Lansing, Mich., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Hedegard.

Next Tuesday Dr. Charles Fernish of San Jose will be guest speaker with the "History of Anesthesia" as his subject, and David F. Ruthenford will be chairman.

Friends were surprised to learn of the marriage of Melvin De Selle to Pearl Weaver of San Jose, which took place in Reno as reported Saturday. De Selle is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles De Selle and is a member of the staff at the Rinconada Golf and Country club. They will reside in San Jose.

DON'T LAUGH AT THE MONKEYS

Next time you go to the zoo to laugh at the antics of the monkeys, don't laugh too hard. Take time out to consider that if there were a very slight shift in intelligence—the smallest kind of a shift—human beings would move into those monkey cages and the apes and monkeys would take over the world.

The authority for that definitely deflating declaration is the noted zoological expert, Carey N. Baldwin, head of San Francisco's Zoological Gardens. Mr. Baldwin isn't joking, either. The great apes, he says, are the smartest of all "lower" animals, with chimpanzees ranking first in intelligence, orang-outangs second, and gorillas third.

In view of current world conditions, Mr. Baldwin's remarks aren't as ludicrous as they might sound. At least the monkeys have learned to live in the same cage without killing each other. They chatter and spat a lot, to be sure, but most of their fighting is just Maxie Baer clowning—for the edification of the folks who provide the peanuts. And if we ponder the mad war of annihilation now raging in our "civilized" world, with its sword-rattling Hitlers and swaggering Mussolinis, the monkeys look smart by comparison.

STORES TO SELL DEFENSE STAMPS

Defense Savings Stamps soon will be on sale in retail stores throughout the country.

Secretary Morgenthau announced the extension of Defense Savings Stamps sales to retail outlets everywhere after a meeting at the Treasury department on August 12, when executives of associations representing more than a million stores pledged immediate participation of their members in the Defense Savings Program. Stamps will go on sale very shortly in department stores, grocery, drug, variety, furniture, hardware, and all other types of retail outlets.

At the meeting the retailers endorsed full participation in "Retailers for Defense" Week, Sept. 15 to 20, when the stores of every state will concentrate their efforts to enlist customers to buy Defense Savings Stamps. Before that time, most stores from coast to coast are expected to have Defense Stamps on sale.

THE OLD WORLD FORGOT

September means Springtime in South America, and spring cleaning of a serious kind is already under way among our neighbor republics.

With diplomatic dusters and economic broomsticks they have begun the by no means easy job of sweeping their countries clean of the most out-spoken pro-Axis elements. At the same time, the United States blacklist of Axis firms has struck a sharp blow at the influence of totalitarian representatives in Latin America.

That all the nations of the Americas are now one happy family, it would be foolhardy to claim. But to deny a swiftly rising degree of cooperation among them would be equally foolish. One need only compare the present state of collaboration in the western hemisphere with the record of European countries during the past five years to note the remarkable difference. With pathetic obstinacy, Belgium, Holland, the nations of Central Europe and the Balkans chose to stand alone, and to keep their eyes tightly shut, while their neighbor states were led to the chopping block, one at a time.

The New World proposes to erect an unbreakable defense barrier by a practical plan. It can be summed up in the one word the Old World forgot—cooperation.

IT'S UP TO YOU

Every community, whether it be a tiny village or a teeming metropolis, should at this time make fire prevention a headlined civic activity.

Fire prevention is vitally important at any time. In this period, when we are attempting to turn all possible national resources to defense purposes, its importance is magnified many times. Anyone can understand the menace of fire to defense factories—one conflagration could delay vital production for many months. And it should also be understood that the prevention of fire everywhere is a definite contribution to defense. Materials and labor which are needed to rebuild a home or a barn or a place of business, cannot be used for defense work. The more fires we prevent, the fewer material shortages we will have—and the faster the defense effort will go through to successful consummation.

Many organizations are doing everything conceivable to fight and prevent fire. The National Board of Fire Underwriters, for instance, has given its full services, without charge, to the War and Navy departments, in order to prevent fires in army camps, naval bases, etc. It is carrying on 24-hour-a-day work against arson and sabotage. It is intensifying its inspection of communities and industries. These activities are bearing fine fruit. But they cannot achieve maximum success without unlimited public and civic aid and cooperation.

Keep in mind the fact that fire prevention is in the direct interest of your safety, your security, your survival. And do your part.

TIME FOR SCHOOL!

A big date in the lives of thousands of California youngsters is just around the corner. The frolicking, rollicking vacation days are nearing their close. The time has come when swimming must yield to spelling and hiking and games must surrender to the discipline of the three R's.

But even the three R's can be games, too. And it's to the credit of progressive schooling, in which California has long been one of the nation's leaders, that the aim of teachers today is to make schooling more of an adventurous quest and less of a cut-and-dried handing down of names, dates and facts. The latter offer information, which is only half the job of educating young Americans to think clearly and wisely, to acquire self reliance, to show fair play in their dealings with their fellows, and to value the freedom which they so easily take for granted.

A democracy dedicated to equipping youth for self-reliant citizenship would be failing in its duty if it did not make clear that such citizenship is not to be taken lightly. To remain strong, democracy requires active loyalty, not just passive support; active exercise of political privileges, not the dangerous indifference which says, "Let the other fellow do it!"

Returning school days mean that one of the nation's biggest, most serious jobs is about to get underway again. To Johnny it means wonderfully care-free days are coming to an end. To many parents, it means welcome relief from a season of worry. To the America of the future, it means young, capable hands are being trained to protect, honor and add to her greatness in the years ahead.

CORY HAS 'EM LICKED

Ranging over Colorado's crags and mountain meadows, archeologists have come upon a rare discovery the bones of Coryphodon. Who's she? Well, she's a hippopotamus-like animal that rambled over the continent 50-to-60 million years ago, when life was comparatively peaceful. Scientists hail old Cory's remains as the find of the year, and we'll take their word for it. If 50 million years from now, scientists stumble upon the bones of today's big-wig dictators, do you think the archeologists will be just as excited? Not by a half! Measured against Coryphodon's heft and uniqueness, the dictator is reduced in scale to a peanut—which wouldn't be a bad idea.

OUR STATE GOVERNMENT

GEORGE REILLY

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

(In a new series of articles on "Our State Government," Commissioner George R. Reilly, our member of the State Board of Equalization, plans a streamlined analysis of the most important departments of state government, and their functions. The series when complete will give a comprehensive and informative picture to our readers as to how state government in California works.)

—EDITOR

In California there is a Judicial Council composed of the Chief Justice, one associate justice, three justices of the Courts of Appeal, four superior court judges, one municipal or police court judge, and one inferior court judge assigned by the Chief Justice. They serve for two-year periods, provided they remain judges for that period. Their duties are to survey and make suggestions for simplifying and improving the administration of justice; report with suggestions, if any, to the Governor and Legislature at each regular session; adopt rules of procedure and practice for the courts, and assign judges to the various courts where there is a crowded calendar, disqualification, or absence.

So, this completes the digest of "Our State Government." Space has prevented a more elaborate description of the various departments.

Every department herein discussed can be reached by addressing that department in Sacramento.

The author takes this opportunity to thank the various department heads and their public relations departments for the very fine cooperation extended in the preparation of this series.

I am grateful, as well, to the many who requested me to prepare this series, and especially so to the publications whose participation has made it possible for so many to read it.

As your representative on the State Board of Equalization it has been a pleasure and a privilege to gather this information. If it helps in some way to make easier and more understandable your state government to you, then it has not been in vain.

We in state government need your cooperation, your support and kindly understanding. With these our problems become simpler, and our service to you reaches a new degree of thoroughness and efficiency.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

That title is not quite adequate for this book. The word "Above" should be changed to "Deep," I think, for I've been through many types of books, travel, love, historical, mystery, and others, and you can mark The Book Mark's word, this story is nothing but suspicion from beginning to end.

As one reader said when she finished the book—"It's intensely thrilling and exciting."

Would you believe me if I told you that three different people took me along with them to mark their place in this book before I got to get all the way through it? See what happened? I was stuck over a few pages to give the reader a chance to get started, then when he did get started he promptly forgot all about me and I wasn't moved until, completed he laid the book aside.

The time of the story begins in 1939—the action takes place in the Nazi controlled countries, principally Germany—and the main theme of the book is to find a man, to discover if he is still alive. This man is a member of an espionage group, English, and many lives are dependent on his rescue. The "Above Suspicion" group, accept an assignment to try and locate this man while on their vacation on the continent. They are unsuspecting innocents wandering about in a mad world peopled by merciless, beastial Gestapo. With a couple of accomplices, a vacationing Englishman like themselves and an American Foreign Correspondent, they prove to be more than amateurs when it comes to undercover work.

Make a note of it. Get "Above Suspicion" to read when you want a real exciting and fast moving story.

Bundle For Berlin

THIS Canadian-made bomb which weighs a mere 500 pounds is just one of some 100,000 that Canada expects to manufacture and ship to Great Britain this year. In addition to equipping and maintaining her own forces on active service at home and abroad, Canada is aiding Great Britain to purchase materials of war in the Dominion by providing her with Canadian dollars for this purpose. During the current fiscal year, Canada expects to lend the Mother Country $1,500,000,000 to help her do this buying; and this sum in terms of American population and income is equivalent to $23,000,000,000 under the Lend-Lease Act.

The Hostess Tray Offers Hostess Enjoyment

By BETTY BARCLAY

When unexpected guests drop in during the middle of the afternoon, do cold shivers run up and down your spine as you grope for an idea or two on what to serve? A hostess tray is ideal about that time because it quiets the feeling of hopelessness and may be arranged from staples or items to be found in the average reserve cupboard or refrigerator.

Its simplicity is much to be desired for a quick service on the spur of the moment is truly a test of the perfect hostess. The tray may include such items as sliced breads—fruit, white or whole wheat; and sandwich spreads, such as peanut butter, jellies, marmalades, or various types of cheese; fruit slices or decorative bits of fruit may be served for floating in the beverage or as garnishes for taste and eye appeal.

In serving this type of tray, guests are invited to prepare their own particular favorite open-faced tea sandwich. This in turn gives the afternoon's entertainment a note of informality and gayness. You'll find they thoroughly enjoy being given an opportunity to choose their own sandwich spreads. Try it soon and notice the "ohs" and "ahs" as your guests prepare these tid-bits.

Iced tea with squeezable lemon quarters is a satisfying beverage to serve. The affluence of lemons and tea have for each other is almost equal to that of salt for pepper. The tartness of the lemon adds zip to the entire service both in color and flavor. This juice stimulates the appetite and promotes digestion... two very favorable qualities to find

Future Farmers To Exhibit At State Fair

Thousands of young California Future Farmers of America will offer a challenge to their elders during the ten days of the 87th annual California State Fair, August 29 through Sept. 7.

Last year the junior Fair threatened to steal the limelight as young California farmers presented their first show in the $500,000 group of buildings opened for them. This year they will surpass their previous achievements.

With entry lists closed in the livestock division, this major feature of the Fair promises to surpass all previous shows, a survey indicated today. Entries reveal that once again the big horses will take the center of the stage. There will be more horses than ever entered in the draft horse breeders classes. In the cattle division the dairy entries will highlight the show.

Marking the increased interest in sheep raising in California, the Fair will this year have a record sheep show with more than 450 head entered.

Gilroy Roundup Starts August 30

Assuring rodeo fans the best in cowboy performers the Gilroy Roundup and Gymkhana has gone "open" for its twelfth annual rodeo, which is to be held on Aug. 30, 31, and Sept. 1. Valuation of Property in County Increases

Taxable tangible property in California has reached an assessed value of $7,355,500,000. This is an all-time high for the base to which county, city and district tax rates apply, according to George R. Reilly, first district member of the State Board of Equalization.

The record tax roll, applying principally to real property and improvements, include both common property, assessed locally, and utility holdings, the assessed value of which is determined by the Board.

In Santa Clara county, the tangible property subject to local taxation was assessed at $163,295,530 in 1941, as compared with $159,127,190 in 1940. This represented an increase of $4,168,340, or 2.62 per cent.

OUR HIGH SCHOOL

ADULT EDUCATION

A very worthwhile adult education program was being carried on at the school. Seven or eight courses were offered this year. The following have proved to be most popular: clothing, Americanization, cabinet making, general shop and physical education.

A class will be provided in any subject field in which twelve or more students enroll. This is necessary so that it will be self-supporting and not be a burden to the taxpayers in the district.

PARENT-TEACHERS

In order for the school to accomplish the most good for the students it is necessary that there be a complete understanding between the parents and the school. The Parent-Teachers association has been an important factor in creating this understanding in our district. An opportunity has been provided at their meetings to discuss problems common to both the parents and school. The helpful suggestions made by this group have been greatly appreciated as have the worthwhile gifts they have made, such as the lights for the tennis courts and the curtain for the little theater.

This group is vitally interested in the welfare of the students and the school and deserves a great deal of credit for its fine work.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold D. Cramer of Moscow, Idaho, are welcoming a second daughter, born Monday, in a Spokane, Wash., hospital. The little lady has been named Catherine Ellen. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Cramer of Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Burke of Mozart avenue, Los Gatos. Mr. and Mrs. Burke and daughter, Miss Janet Burke, have been touring the northwest and Miss Burke will remain for the winter with her sister and family and attend the University of Idaho at Moscow.

DEFENSE BOND QUIZ

Q. Where should I keep my Defense Savings Bonds?

A. In a safe place, because they have value which constantly increases. If you wish, the Treasury Department or any Federal Reserve Bank will hold them in safekeeping for your without charge, giving you a receipt.

Q. Does an album filled with Stamps automatically become a Bond that will pay interest and mature in 10 years?

A. No. The completed album must be exchanged for a Bond. Regardless of the amount of money you have invested in Stamps, they will not bear interest until they are in the form of a Bond or Bonds.

Q. Can my children buy Defense Savings Stamps?

A. Yes. Hundreds of thousands of American children are buying Stamps regularly as their share in the national savings program.

Q. Why should children be encouraged to buy Savings Stamps?

A. Because by buying Savings Stamps they write their names on a Roll of Honor of Americans who are doing their part to show the dictators that united America will never flinch to preserve her sacred liberty.

Q. After my child has collected enough Stamps to exchange for a Bond, can the Bond be registered in the child's name?

A. Yes. A minor may own a Defense Savings Bond. Many parents are registering Bonds in their children's names to prepare for future educational needs.

California's Rural Areas Gain

CALIFORNIA was one of 12 states in which the trend of industry and population toward small towns like the above typical western village was most pronounced during the past decade, according to an analysis of latest federal census figures by Future, magazine of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce. This trend, noted nationally in a 6.4 per cent gain for rural population during the decade, indicates that more men who work and trade in towns are seeking "greater personal freedom" by building homes in the country. Future points out. As an example, the magazine cited Schenley Distillers corporation which, surveying personnel at its plants in Lawrenceburg, Ind., and Frankfort, Ky., found an increasing number of workmen were building new homes on small farms within easy driving distance of work.

ALTHOUGH only 2,005,122 of California's 6,907,387 residents were classed as "rural," the state's non-urban population nevertheless gained 32.2 per cent during the decade, compared with only 17.8 per cent for city areas like Los Angeles, above. Improved communications, air travel and more widespread use of conveniences once available only in cities are among important factors in the new trend, according to Future's analysis.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton D. Rees who have been visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Rees and Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Hedegard, will leave Monday on their return trip to their home in Lansing, Mich.

$2,000,000 Building Down

The government has torn down the 239-unit Boulevard apartments in Washington, built only 15 years ago at a cost of $2,000,000, to make way for a new war department building.

Electric Cookery is "CLEAN" as Electric Light

Millions Now Enjoy Electric Ranges!

Have a picture book kitchen, clean and bright and modern. Start right with a modern electric range. Select any one of the new models from a variety of makes. They are all good ranges. They are all priced reasonably low. And anyone of the new 1941 models will cook with all the speed you would want food to cook. Then no matter if your kitchen is painted white or some light cheerful color do not worry about the paint getting smudgy and dirty looking in a short time. Your electric range cooks with heat from glowing coils that are clean and dependable as electric light.

Millions of American women now cook the modern electric way. They like the simplicity of operation of the electric range. They like the way the top units come up to cooking speed quickly at the snap of a switch. They like the perfect broiling and roasting in the ovens. They like the automatic time and temperature controls that take care of oven dinners or baking. And they like the economy of electric cooking, too.

Why not cook the modern way...with electricity? Here in California electricity is cheap for cooking. You will be amazed at how little it costs to operate one of the new 1941 electric ranges.
